

Worksheet 12

Download file sample-data.txt.

This file contains the records of a company employees. Each record includes first name, last name, city and state of living and zip code of an employee.

1. First store each record in a tuple and save the list sorted by last name in a new file named employees.data .
2. Use dictionary to count number of employees per each state and print result.