

Worksheet 10

University Data Base

We want to create a program that help university to find information about the students. The program stores name and grade of each student in a file.

The user can input new student grade and search for saved information.

You should store student's information in the following format:

<student name> - <grade>

Use `split("-")` to separate the student's grade and name.